

Next-Generation Melvyl Pilot

Content/Features Comparison of Current Melvyl and Next-Generation Melvyl

Content/Features	Current	Next-Gen
Records for materials (books, journals, movies, maps, music scores and recordings, computer files, dissertations, government documents, etc.) held by the main libraries of the ten UC campuses	Yes	Yes
Ability to retrieve and display records with local holdings locations and status information drawn from local ILS systems	Yes	Yes
Ability to access and display sample non-traditional records such as on-order brief and vendor records	No	Yes
Thirty million article references from ArticleFirst, ERIC, GPO, and MEDLINE	No	Yes
Multilingual interface (e.g., interface labels in German, Spanish, French, Dutch, Chinese)	No	Yes
Bibliographic citation tool in multiple styles	No	Yes
Ability to automatically move references into EndNote and RefWorks	No	Yes
Faceted browsing	No	Yes
Sort capability by relevance, author, title, date (increasing) and date (decreasing)	Yes, but not by relevance or by date increasing	Yes
Displays holdings at local campus library, all UC libraries, and worldwide	No	Yes

Allows user to search by zip code (Libraries tab)	No	Yes
Allows user to save records to a list	Yes	Yes
Allows user to share lists with others	No	Yes
Ability to search for lists created by others & by contacts	No	Yes
Ability to add a review	No	Yes
Contains book jacket covers	No	Yes
Brings editions and different formats (e.g., books, videos) of a work together (FRBR)	No	Yes
Borrow an item (ILL; Request)	Yes	Yes
Link to UC-eLinks	Yes	Yes
Links to mass digitized items (coming)	No	Yes
Links to digital items	Some	More
Links from "About the Author" to WorldCat Identities (information about authors)	No	Yes